HUMANITY'S SCOURGE.

Progress That Is Being Made in the Way of Fighting the Ravages of Consumption.

Dr. James J. Walsh, Ph. D., of New York, but formerly of Parsons, where his parents reside, is reviewing the work of the congress of physicians and surgeons at Washington, D. C., for the New York Journal.

In his report of the first day's session, printed yesterday, was the following interesting resume of the progress made in fighting consumption:

The proceedings reflect what is latest in scientific practice and theory. The most striking contribution on this first day was the review of the sanitarium treatment of tuberculosis by the great American pioneer in this method of therapeutics, Dr. E. L. Trudeau, of Saranac, N. Y. All other methods of treating tuberculosis have attracted popular attention. Especially have all the various drugs and serum remedies for the disease been thoroughly expounded by the speakers.

For a quarter of a century the open air treatment of tuberculosis has been humbly, modestly, but surely accomplishing its great work of salvation for the human race. Only now is this method beginning to attract the public attention it deserves. Dr. Trudeau's statistics show that nearly 40 per cent. of the patients in the preliminary stages of consumption have been cured by the sanitarium treatment. Nearly 40 per cent. more have been decidedly benefited.

Of nearly 1,200 patients who have been treated at Saranac in the last fifteen years more than one-half are still alive, and more than 300 of them are in good health. It looks as if at last the disease, humanity's greatest scourge, was broken. More than one-eighth of the human race is carried off every year by tuberculosis. We fear the so-called contagious disease, but consumption kills more than all of them put together.

The mains of the new treatment are air, rest and a plentiful nutritious diet. No matter how cold the weather, patients must get out into the open air. At night the air must have free access to their sleeping rooms. People fear the deleterious effect of night air. Even physicians sometimes encourage the notion of its harmfulness. At night the only pure air is the night air, and pure air consumptives must have at all hours. Even during unseasonable weather patients suitably clad must pass a good part of their time outside. Whenever there is fever, absolutely no exercise must be taken. Rest is as important as air for the consumptive. It has been objected that without exercise the appetite will grow less. Experience has shown, however, that when patients pass most of their time in the open air they can be brought to consume large quantities of milk and eggs and properly selected foods without disturbance of digestion.

Besides the improvement in this rational method of treating consumption, one other factor that has contributed greatly to the decrease of the mortality from tuberculosis was brought out by Dr. Trudeau, and that is the early diagnosis of the disease by means of the X-rays and injections of tuberculin. The earlier consumption is recognized the greater are the hopes of its ultimate cure. In fact, at the first symptoms of disturbance of health are noticed and before cough or expectoration occurs these methods of examination show the existence of the consumption in the lung.

The diaphragm on the affected side—it cannot be seen with the Roentgen rays—does not move at all on the other side, and the portion of lung invaded by the tubercle bacilli casts a darker shadow. The tuberculin reaction shows the presence of tuberculosis even when the Roentgen rays fail. Under the influence of these newer methods of early diagnosis and effective treatment, the twentieth century will see a very different state of affairs with regard to tuberculosis from that which exists at present.

NEW DEATH CERTIFICATES.

Dr. Allen's report also dealt with some trite subjects, among them being the necessity of adopting a new form of death certificate to replace those now in use. Regarding this he says: "I would respectfully suggest that the form of physician's certificate of death be changed by prefixing the statement of the physician signing it by a clause stating that he or she had personally attended the deceased in his or her last illness and by adding a clause forbidding a certificate based upon post-mortem views of a dead body and statistics of so-called hearsay not legally qualified to practice medicine."

FUNERAL OF MRS. BROCK.

Services Conducted by Rev. C. M. Giffin, of Elm Park Church.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Edinger Brock took place yesterday from her residence, 714 Adams avenue. Mrs. Brock was one of the best known residents of this city. She was the widow of J. W. Brock, a pioneer of this region and loved by a large circle of friends. Possessed of unusual traits of character and a fine mind she will be long remembered with tender regret.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Giffin, pastor of the church of which she has long been a member, officiated at the funeral. Flowers in profusion testified of the affection in which she was held. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Arja Williams, G. S. Horn, C. E. Bradbury, E. Wentz, George G. Sanborn and S. E. Jewell. Interment was made in the family plot at Forest Hill.

Among the out-of-town friends present were: Mrs. Hampton C. Cornell and Miss Mabel Cornell, of Chicago; J. K. Miller, of the New York Sun; Mrs. Stevens, of Elmira; Mrs. Adam Edinger, of Buffalo, and Mrs. Stauffer, of Stauffer's Mills.

COUNTY JAIL CELLS NOT FIT FOR USE

SO SAY THE HEALTH OFFICER AND PLUMBING INSPECTOR.

Their Report on the Unsanitary Condition of the Local Prison Was to Have Been Presented to the Board of Health, but There Was No Meeting Held—Fault Found with the Whole System of Plumbing—New Death Certificates Needed—Secretary and Food Inspector's Reports.

Plumbing Inspector O'Malley and Health Officer Allen, in a report which they had ready to be presented at last night's meeting of the board of health, but which was not presented, owing to the absence of Doctors Reynolds and Rotham and President George Horn, condemn the prison cells in the county jail as being unfit for occupancy and otherwise find serious fault with the sanitary arrangements of that institution.

It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the board the plumbing inspector and health officer were directed to inspect the plumbing in the county jail and to recommend to the county commissioners the necessary improvements that should be made.

The report gives a technical and thoroughly complete description of all the defects found in the plumbing, which must be in a very bad condition, according to their report. The individual closets in each cell are condemned for several reasons. The valves in many instances are inoperative and the water supply pipes are so crowded that there is not enough of a supply to properly flush the closets. In some cases the clean-outs are removed, leaving apertures four inches across through which sewer gas escapes.

The closet on the ground floor is directly opposite the cell ventilator and the foul air from it accordingly passes over the beds of the prisoners occupying the cell. This is a serious fault for changing the air in the cells was found to be useless, owing to the fact that they are choked with refuse. In reference to the general condition of the building the report says: "Speaking from a general standpoint we would condemn as unfit for occupancy all of the prison cells in their present condition."

They recommended that the whole system of plumbing in the building be reworked and remodelled. This will mean a great expense, but it is a necessary expense.

COMPENSATION CEASED.

Controller to Receive No More School Board Money—Ordinance to Restore Clerk Hire Item.

City Controller Howell's compensation from the school board ceased on Monday when the supreme court's decision affirming the constitutionality of the act of 1874 was handed down. It is not expected that the board will allow him any further compensation.

When they did decide to pay him it was because a majority of the members believed that the school district's accounts should be audited, and inasmuch as Judge Archbald ruled that the controller had nothing whatever to do with school board warrants, the controller's position as auditor was not in his official capacity as controller of the city's finances. Now that the supreme court has decided that it is not expected that the board will allow him any further salary.

It would be useless for him to refuse to sign as he could be mandated and compelled to, or else be punished for contempt of court.

The controller's clerk hire having been vetoed by the mayor, the only emolument he now receives is his salary of $2,000 a year. Mr. Roche's ordinance re-appropriating the clerk hire comes up for first and second reading tonight in select council, and will undoubtedly pass. It may meet with an snag in common, however, where Mr. V. Morris is believed to have a majority of votes pledged for his ordinance appropriating $1,200 for two additional permanent men, and taking the funds from the vetoed item of clerk hire.

STREETS ARE NOW MUCH CLEANER

SYSTEM USED BY COMMISSIONER THOMAS.

The Paved Streets Are Flushed at Regular Intervals and the Block System of Cleaning Has Also Been Adopted—A Certain Number of Blocks Are Apportioned to Each Cleaner—Result of the System Is That the Paved Streets Are Kept Comparatively Clean.

Street Commissioner Roland Thomas has now got his system of cleaning the city's paved streets in complete working order, and the neat appearance of the asphalt pave during the past week or so has been favorably commented upon by many who a few weeks ago could not find adjectives strong enough to qualify their opinions on the then dirty condition of the streets.

The streets are now cleaned by both flushing and by the hand brush. There are two street flushing gangs who are busy each and every night in the week. The streets in the central city and on the "hill" district are flushed at least four and sometimes five times a week. The Green Ridge pavements and Washington avenue from the Erie and Wyoming station out to Marion street are flushed three times a week and the West Scranton paved streets, both asphalt and Belgian block, also get a dose of water three times a week.

On the morning of a day on which the streets are to be flushed in the central city and West Scranton, a gang of men is sent out to thoroughly sweep off all heavy dirt. The members of this gang are then separated and each man is given a certain number of blocks to sweep off. This is generally from four to six on the quiet streets, and three on the busy thoroughfares, such as Lackawanna and Wyoming avenues. At night the flushing gang flushes the streets, the water taking off all the fine dirt which the brushes can not get up.

The day after the streets are flushed the men who were assigned to certain sections of streets the day before take care of these during the entire day, and are held solely responsible for their condition to the foreman. There are now about thirty-five men regularly employed as street sweepers and ten for the two flushing gangs.

Mr. Thomas has also arranged to have the wagons used for collecting the dirt make several trips a day, so that the little heaps are gathered up before they have been scattered or tracked across the street again.

IN THE SUSQUEHANNA RIVER.

Body of Alexander McDonald, the Duryea Barber, Discovered.

A body was found on an island in the Susquehanna river at Wilkes-Barre yesterday, which was identified as that of Alexander McDonald, the Duryea barber, who disappeared from home last Christmas, and of whom nothing has been heard since. Arthur Bremer, while working on the island, found the body partly buried in the sand. It was at first thought it was the body of one of the two men recently drowned at Binghamton, N. Y., and washed down the river, but the Binghamton authorities, on being notified, replied that the bodies of those two men had been found.

Later, relatives of McDonald identified the body. Coroner McKee examined the remains and will hold an inquest to ascertain the cause of death.

DEWEY'S SCRAP BOOK.

Handsome Gift of Two Wilkes-Barre Boys to the Admiral.

Admiral Dewey will soon have what will be, no doubt, one of the most cherished gifts that have come to him since his return to this country. Two patriotic youngsters of Wilkes-Barre are the donors and the scrap book—for that is what the gift is—was made, excepting the binding, of course, entirely by them. These boys—J. Mae Haines, aged 12, and Tom Whitman, Haines, Jr., two years younger—are sons of one of Wilkes-Barre's leading men. When news came of the sinking of the Spanish fleet in Manila bay, they, like lots of other boys, became ardent supporters of the admiral. They read everything they could find about him and began saving clippings from newspapers, periodicals and magazines. Finally the idea of this book came to them.

They began it in a modest way, but it soon developed into something greater, and as finally finished is magnificent indeed. The book is of the finest paper, beautifully bound in Spoke Last Night in Green Ridge Presbyterian Church.

E. B. Sturges led the regular prayer meeting at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church last evening and afterwards spoke on missions generally, and missions in Porto Rico especially, from the text found in Isaiah, xiv:15, "Wherefore, glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Israel, in the isles of the sea," and Isaiah, xl:10, "Sing unto the Lord a new song, and His praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof."

He told of the general industrial paralysis that followed the American invasion and then of the awful devastation caused by the great hurricane of last August. There have been many changes for the better since the American occupation, thousands have been fed, school houses have been erected, but much remains yet to be done. "This million of people at our feet, to educate, to civilize and to Christianize," said he, in conclusion.

SUPT. RUSSELL ARRIVES.

MOTHER WANTS HER CHILD.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lowery at Law Over Their Daughter.

The following petition was yesterday presented to Judge Archbald by Attorneys Vauxburg & Dawson: To the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas:

The petition of Nettie Lowery respectfully sheweth: That Charles S. Lowery, her husband, and that Lucy Lowery, now ten years of age, is their child; that said Lucy Lowery is restrained her liberty by said Charles S. Lowery, of the city of Scranton, and that she is not detained for any criminal or supposed criminal matter; that said Charles S. Lowery, after abusing the petitioner by using vile and opprobrious language to her, by assaulting her, by locking her out of the house and denying her admittance thereto, and by many other violent and unlawful acts to her done, drove her away from her home; that at that time the said Charles S. Lowery took the said Lucy Lowery away from her petitioner and has since kept her confined and secluded in some place unknown to your petitioner; that she verily believes that said Lucy Lowery is secreted somewhere in this city; that your petitioner has been unable to see her child since the 11th day of April, 1900; that the said Charles S. Lowery is a man of dissolute habits and is in many ways an improper person to have custody of said child.

Your petitioner therefore prays your honorable body to grant a writ of habeas corpus, agreeably to the act of assembly, in such case made and provided, to bring up the body of the said Lucy Lowery. And she will ever pray, etc.

Nettie Lowery.

The writ was granted as prayed for and made returnable Monday afternoon next at 1:30 o'clock. The hearing will take place in Judge Archbald's chambers.
